

November celebrates Native American Heritage

of the dust
Men must be born and reborn to belong.
Their bodies must be formed
of the dust
of their forefather's bones.

LUTHER STANDING BEAR, LAKOTA

National Museum www.si.edu of the American Indian

Human Relations Advisory Staff

Newsletter November 2001

November is the month to celebrate Native American Heritage. The "Arizona Native Scene" is a publication serving metro Phoenix, Gila River, Salt River, Fort McDowell, Tonto Apache and parts of Navajo country. The newspaper is an excellent source of information and full of interesting stories, community events and a calendar of events. Visit their website at <http://www.arizonanativescene.com> for more information. If you are interested in Native American Recognition Days events, look at <http://www.aznard.com/> for more information. The Smithsonian Institute is the home of the National Museum of the American Indian and can be accessed through their website at www.si.edu. Our own Heard Museum downtown has beautifully educational exhibits and information about their current programs and hours can be accessed through <http://www.heard.org/>

Take a moment to experience the beauty of this very special culture.

Training -- EEO, Preventing Sexual Harassment, Preventing Violence in the Workplace, Homosexual Conduct Policy and other related training and educational materials are available from this office. Supervisors should call to schedule. All DEMA policy letters related to these subjects must be posted on bulletin boards, as stated. Please check with us to update any of your materials or provide training sessions.

HRAS NEWSLETTER

Co-Editors: MAJ Anastasia Stipe, TSgt Barbara Busby

If you story contributions, comments or questions, submit them to: Office of the Adjutant General, AZNG-HRE 5636 E. McDowell Road
Phoenix, AZ 85008-3495
Fax: (602) 267-2782